WHOLE NO. 1120

D. APPLETON & CO.'S NEW BOOKS.

The Story of My Life.

By GEORG EBERS, author of "Uarda," "An Egyptian Princess," "A Thorny Path," etc. With portraits. 16mo, cloth, $1.25.

For many years Dr. Ebers has kept his hold upon the reading public and has strengthened it with every book. But the personality of this creator of the romance of the past has until now been veiled. The author here tells of his student life in Germany, his association with movements like that for the establishment of kindergarten training, his acquaintance with men like Froebel and the brothers Grimm, his experiences in the revolutionary period, his interest in Egyptology and the history of ancient Greece and Rome, and the beginnings of his literary career. It is a book of historical as well as personal interest.

The Health Resorts of Europe.

A Medical Guide to the Mineral Springs, Climatic, Mountain, and Seaside Health Resorts, Milk, Whey, Grape, Earth, Mud, Sand, and Air Cures of Europe. By THOMAS LINN, M.D. With an introduction by T. M. Coan, M.D. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

"To invalid tourists Dr. Linn's book will prove the most serviceable guide that has yet appeared. He is familiar with his theme, and has given great experience and care to its full elucidation. What was needed was a manual, written with scientific knowledge and authority, which should serve both the practising physician and the patient. Dr. Linn has here brought together more of the necessary data than can be found in any other English book of so small a compass; and the reader who begins by studying its pages, and acts in conformity with its skilled advice as to the choice of a health resort, will hardly go amiss."—From the Introduction.

A History of Crustacea.

By Rev. THOMAS R. R. STEBBING, M.A., author of "The Naturalist of Cumbriae," "The Challenger Amphipoda," etc. With numerous illustrations. Vol. 71, International Scientific Series. 12mo, cloth, $2.00.

"It is not very generally known that the species of Crustacea extend to the number of several thousands. . . . The beginner will have provinces of a new world opened to his exploration. There is curiosity to be gratified. The sporting instinct will discover many an unexplored territory. In the manners and customs of the creatures there is much to afford entertainment, and almost every new observer finds something singular to relate."—From the Preface.

Appletons' Summer Series, New Issues, Cloth, 75 Cents each.

A Border Leander.

By HOWARD SEELY. 16mo, with specially designed flexible cloth cover in green and silver, 75 cents.

The popularity of Messrs. D. Appleton & Co.'s dainty Summer Fiction Series insures a welcome for the attractive and enlarged form of the series this year. "A Border Leander," the first volume in this series, is a picturesque Western romance abounding in incident and humor. In their new form these volumes will be found desirable for preservation in the library as well as for summer reading.

Old Issues, Boards, 50 Cents each.

The volumes previously published in the Summer Series are: Mr. Fortner's Marital Claims, and Other Stories, by RICHARD MALCOLM JOHNSTON; People at Fish-gah, by EDWIN W. SANBORN; Gramercy Park, by JOHN SEYMOUR WOOD; A Tale of Twenty-five Hours, by BRANDER MATTHEWS and GEORGE K. JESSOP; A Little Norsk, by HAMLIN GARLAND; On the Lake of Lucerne, and Other Stories, by BEATRICE WHITBY; Adopting an Abandoned Farm, by KATE SANBORN; From Shadow to Sunlight, by the MARQUIS OF LORNE; and Tourmalin's Time Cheques, by F. ANSTEY.

NOTES IN SEASON.

GINN & Co. have purchased of Lee & Shepard Blaisdell's series of physiologies, a series which combines in a remarkable way scientific truth, temperance instruction and text-book merit.

HARPER & BROTHERS have just ready the second volume of the Distaff Series of books written, compiled, designed and made by women, under the title "The Literature of Philanthropy." Its editor is Frances A. Goodale.

BOUSSOD, VALADON & Co., of New York, will publish shortly a translation by Mrs. Elizabeth Wormeley Latimer, of a story entitled "Jacqueline," by "Th. Bentzon" (Mme. Marie Thérèse Blanc), a well-known contributor to the Revue des Deux Mondes. This work will have photo-gravures of illustrations by Albert Lynch, and there will also be an edition of forty numbered copies on Whatman paper with all the illustrations in fac-simile of colors of Lynch's water-colors. This will be a very costly book.

FLEMING H. REVELL COMPANY will publish at once an authorized reprint of two addresses entitled "Jesus Himself," by the Rev. Andrew Murray, author of "Abide in Christ;" also "A Memoir of Adolph Saphir, D.D., or, mighty in the Scriptures," by Rev. G. Carlyle.

THE AMERICAN TRACT SOCIETY announce for immediate publication (by arrangement with Hodder & Stoughton) "Clews to Holy Writ, or, the chronological Scripture cycle," a scheme for studying the whole Bible in its historical order during three years, by Mary Louisa Georgina Petrie.

MACMILLAN & Co. will publish at once the second volume of the new edition of Pepys. They have just issued the final volume of W. Aldis Wright's edition of Shakespeare, which contains "Pericles" and the shorter poems and sonnets. They have nearly ready a new edition of Bruce's "Travels in Abyssinia," edited by Mr. Clingan, who has condensed the narrative. It will contain a short life of Bruce and a summary of recent travel on the Nile and in Abyssinia.

D. C. HEATH & Co., Boston, have in press for immediate publication two very entertaining tales by Riehl, "Das Spielmannskind" and "Der Stumme Ratsherr," edited with notes by A. F. Eaton, instructor in German at Oberlin College. These stories are interesting in themselves, and are especially well suited to second year school reading, or to first or second year college reading, and are valuable because they give instructive glimpses into German life and history.

THE INTERNATIONAL NEWS CO., New York City, will inaugurate a new series of choice copyright works to be issued bi-monthly, in which owing to the facilities of this great corporation, many important new foreign novels will in time find place. The initial number of the new series will be "A Terrible Family," a new work of fiction by Florence Warden, whose weird, original talent is undisputed. This novel will be ready about August 1. The series will be known as The Authors' Library, and in type, paper, and tasteful bindings in colored paper and cloth will be fully equal to the first-class novels of the day. The publishers announce a liberal discount to dealers, and promise most salable merchandise.

THE OPEN COURT PUB CO., Chicago, have just ready "The Science of Mechanics," a critical and historical exposition of its principles, by Dr. Ernst Mach, professor of physics in the University of Prague translated from the second German edition by Thomas I. McCormack, with 250 cuts and illustrations; "The Religion of Science," by Dr. Paul Carus, the first issue in the Religion of Science Library, which is a clear and popular exposition of positivistic monism in its religious aspect; and a new pamphlet by the same author, entitled "The Philosophy of the Tool." The July issue of The Monist, the quarterly magazine published by this organization, has notable articles by Dr. Paul Carus, its chief editor; Charles S. Peirce, Prof. E. D. Cope and others.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p. in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no prices, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); (Q. 4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tl. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights.

*Bench (The) and bar of Philadelphia: an illustrated, chronological and alphabetical legal directory. Phil., W: J. Campbell, 740 Sansom St., 1893. por. 12°, cl., $1.50.

Brevans, J. de. The manufacture of liquors and preserves; from the French. N. Y., Munn & Co., 1893. c. 5+200 p. il. S. cl., $3.

The author is an eminent French chemist who has devoted much time and study to the preparation of liquors and preserves. The great value of the work consists in the formulas, which number over 300, and are so arranged that, if the manufacturer has no distilling plant of his own, he can still make many of the liquors from the essences. The book is well illustrated and has numerous tables and a full index. The raw materials, the plant of the distiller, etc., are described according to the best modern practice.

Briggs, C: A., D.D. The defence of Professor Briggs before the General Assembly: the case against Professor Briggs, pt. 3. N. Y., C: Scribner's Sons, 1893. c. 5+311 p. O. pap., net, 75 c.

Contents: 1, The appeal of the so-called prosecuting committee to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, Jan. 18, '93. 2, The argument of Prof. Briggs before the General Assembly against entertaining the appeal, May 21 and 25, '93. 3, The entertainment of the appeal, May 26, '93. 4, The argument of Prof. Briggs before the General Assembly against sustaining the appeal, May 29 and 30, '93. 5, The action of the General Assembly in sustaining the appeal, May 31, '93, and the final judgment of the General Assembly, June 1, '93.

Catalogue of original and early editions of some of the poetical and prose works of English writers from Langland to Wither; with collations and notes, and eighty-seven fac-similes of title-pages and frontispieces; being a contribution to the bibliography of English literature. N. Y., imprinted for the Grolier Club, 29 East 32d St., 1893. c. 10+240 p. il. O. hf. mor., $10.

Only four hundred copies of this work were printed on Holland hand-made paper, and three copies on vellum. The books described in the catalogue are with very few exceptions the property of members of the Grolier Club. The fac-similes of title-pages introduced, a feature quite common in French bibliographies, has never been extensively employed in any American work of this character.

Clark, J. B. The surplus gains of labor. Phil., American Acad. of Political and Social Science, [1893.] 79-89 p. O. (Publications of the society, no. 85.) pap., 15 c.

Claude, Jean. Cruel persecutions of the Protestants in the Kingdom of France; 1st American reprint of the English translation published in London in 1707; with a biographical sketch of the author Jean Claude, by Narcisse Cyr. Springfield, Mass., [Narcisse Cyr, Blackman House, 27-29 Vernon St.,] 1893. 2-212 p. por. T. cl., $1.

A faithful translation into English of the celebrated work of Jean Claude, a prominent member of the French Protestant clergy at the time of the revocation of the Edict of Nantes. Mr. Cyr was presented with a copy of the rare book while lecturing in England four years ago. It contains besides the original narrative two interesting and important documents: a dedicatory epistle to the bishops of Canterbury and London, and an essay on the condition of the poor Huguenot refugees.

Cowan, Rev. J. F. Endeavor doin's down to the Corners. Bost., D. Lothrop Co., 1893. c. '92, '93. 4+387 p. il. D. cl., $1.50.

A story in the interest of the great association of "Christian Endeavorers;" how the associates got a footing at the Corners; how they contended with discouragements, had their ups and downs, their trials and their triumphs, is all told in the homely dialect and Down East talk of good Jonathan Hayseed, farmer, reformer, humorist, and a Christian.

Cyr, Narcisse, comp. Recueil de chants chrétiens, pour le culte public, les écoles et les familles. 3d ed. Bost., [Narcisse Cyr,] 1892 [1893.] c. 77. 2-32 p. S. pap., 15 c.

Daintrey, Laura. Gold: a novel. N. Y., G: W. Dillingham, 1893. c. 5-316 p. D. (Daintrey ser.) pap., 50 c.

In one of the colossal dry-goods establishments of New York City the story opens. Its head, worth $22,000,000, is murdered on the Christmas eve that witnessed the burning of the Hotel Royal. The suspected murderer can only clear himself by proving where he spent that night. How he is cleared brings out the different quality of love two women have for him. New York society women make a sorry show in Miss Daintrey's new exposure of life in a great city.

Gibbes, Emily Oliver. The origin of sin and dotted words in the Hebrew Bible. N. Y., C: T. Dillingham & Co., 1893. c. 2-335 p. D. cl., $1.25.

Divided into ten books, entitled: Origin of sin; The dotted words in the Hebrew Bible; The religions of the east of this day; Reflections; The Christian religion; Jesus Christ; Science; The women of the Old Testament; The women of the New Testament; Songs of the women of the Bible; The prayer-book.

Giles, Rev. Chauncey. Consolation. Phil., American New-Church Tract and Pub. Soc., 1893. c. 2-187 p. D. cl., 75 c.

The author has dedicated this little book "to the bereaved," to whom he says "it is dedicated to you in the hope that it may give you consolation in your sorrow, or at least direct you to the only source from which the healing of all wounded affections comes, and give you some hints of the means by which you can gain access to its consoling and life-giving power."

*Goad, G: W. Instructions to juries especially adapted to the laws of Texas. Springfield, Mo., G: W. Goad, 1893. c. 561 p. O. shp., $5.50.

Grand, Sarah, (pseud.) The heavenly twins. N. Y., Cassell Pub. Co., 1893. 13+679 p. D. cl., $1.

The boy and girl who receive in derision the name of "the heavenly twins" have a perfect genius for mischief. From the time they can walk, until they settle down into married life, their audacious, ridiculous pranks make most amusing reading. Evadne Frayling, however, is the real heroine, the author expending much space upon the elaboration of her original character. Evadne has fresh views about life and men and women, believing that there are as strong reasons for purity in men as for virtue in women. Her life, in her two marriages, illustrates her theories when brought into contact with realities. The author is an Englishwoman, who hides her identity under a pseudonym. She has written "Singularly deluded" and "Ideala"—the latter not having been reprinted in this country. "Ideala" reappears in this story.

Greene, Nanci Lewis. Nance: a story of Kentucky feuds. Chic., F. T. Neely, [1893.] c. 3+257 p. D. (Neely's lib. of choice literature, v. 2, no. 4.) pap., 50 c.

Growoll, A. James Thomson: biographical and bibliographical sketch. N. Y., [H. Mischke,] 4 Barclay St., 1893. 10 p. por. S. pap., 25 c.

Brief literary and biographical sketch of the author of "The city of dreadful night," with a bibliography of some of his other works.

Haferkorn, H. E., comp. Handy lists of technical literature; reference catalogue of books printed in English from 1880 to 1888 inclusive; to which is added a select list of books printed before 1880 and still kept on publishers' and jobbers' lists. Pts. 5 and 6, Fine arts and architecture, painting, sculpture, decoration, ornament, carpentry, building and art industries, etc., incl. issues up to May, 1893, and a number of earlier books frequently met with in catalogues, with a list of periodicals and annuals in these branches. Milwaukee, Wis., H. E. Haferkorn, 1893. c. 6+636+22 p. O. cl., $3.50; pap., $3.25. (Incl. key to publishers.)

Hamerling, Rob. Aspasia: a romance of art and love in ancient Hellas; from the German, by Mary J. Safford. N. Y., G: Gottsberger Peck, 1893. c. '81, '93. 6+350+335 p. por. D. cl., $1.25.

See notice, "Weekly Record," P. W., January 21, 1882, [523.]

Hector, Mrs. Annie F., ["Mrs. Alexander," pseud.] Found wanting: a novel. Phil., J. B. Lippincott Co., 1893. c. '92 '93. 319 p. D. cl., $1.

May Riddell is a young English girl, living in comparative comfort with her selfish father in Paris; his sudden death throws her upon the world penniless and friendless; she then goes to Scotland as companion to a Miss Macallan, a severe middle-aged woman; her fortunes and love-affairs are told with the wealth of interesting details characteristic of the author.

Holbrook, Eliz. Old 'Kaskia days: a novel. Chic., The Schulte Pub. Co., 1893. c. 2-295 p. il. D. cl., $1.50.

Kaskaskia, a Jesuit mission, was founded in 1690-86, and was one of the first settlements of Illinois; it was afterwards the Territory and then the State of Illinois. This romance, besides its interesting love-tale, is rich in the history and traditions of the place, which had a chequered career under French, British and Colonial rule—the Indians also playing a part in the story.

*Howells, W: Dean. The world of chance: a novel. N. Y., Harper, 1893. 8°, (Harper's Franklin sq. lib.) pap., 60 c.

Janvier, T: A. The Aztec treasure-house: a romance of contemporaneous antiquity. N. Y., Harper, 1893. c. '90. 5-446 p. il. D. (Harper's Quarterly, no. 1<sup>a</sup> extra.) pap., 75 c.

See notice, "Weekly Record," P. W., July 5, 1890, [962.]

Keppler, Jos. A selection of cartoons from Puck by Jos. Keppler; with text and introd. by H. C. Bunner. N. Y., Keppler & Schwarzmann, 1893. c. 226 p. il. F. cl., $10.

The edition of this handsome work consists only of two hundred copies. The cartoons, numbering over fifty, represent some of the best work done by Mr. Keppler during his connection of sixteen years with Puck. They are beautifully printed on heavy paper, the text, which describes the political significance of the cartoons, being on fine linen paper of generous margin.

King, C: Foes in ambush. Phil., J. B. Lippincott Co., 1893. c. '92. 3-263 p. D. cl., $1.25.

"Foes in ambush" deals largely with that disreputable and cunning set of half-breeds, Mexicans and worthless Americans who hang about the southwestern and western frontiers, and with army personages, privates and officers, and the story relates the plotting of a lot of ruffians, their ambuscade of and attack upon an army paymaster, the escape of the beleaguered party, after a hot fight, and, finally, a second encounter with Apaches. The interest is sustained throughout the tale, and a touch of romance lends additional strength and consistency."—Phila. Evening Bulletin.

*Kurtz, C. M. The art gallery illustrated of the World's Columbian Exposition. Phil., G: Barrie, 1313 Walnut St., 1893. 8°, cl., $2.

Lewis, Mrs. Harriet. Tresillian Court: a novel; il. by A. W. Van Deusen. N. Y., Rob. Bonner's Sons, 1893. c. '70, '93. 4-315 p. il. D. (The Ledger lib., no. 86.) cl., $1; pap., 50 c.

A fatal resemblance and the timely assistance which Jaspur Lowder rendered Guy Tresillian led the latter to employ Jaspur as a travelling companion; during a voyage on the Sicilian coast their vessel is wrecked, and the two men survive. Jaspur, however, believing his companion to be dead, steals his papers and determines to usurp his name and fortune; but before executing his plot learns that Guy will live, and that he will be insane. He provides for this complication, and figures thereafter as the heir of Tresillian Court and the suitor of a young English girl, whose sensational love-story is told.

*Maine. Railroad laws, compiled by E. C. Farrington, 1893. Augusta, Me., E. C. Farrington, Clerk of Bd. of R. R. Comm'rs, 1893. c. 146 p. O. cl., $1.50.

*Murdock, W. L. Cricket. N. Y., G. Routledge & Sons, 1893. 95 p. 12°, (Oval ser. of games, ed. by C. W. Alcock.) flex. cl., 50 c.

*Palgrave, R. H. Inglis, ed. Dictionary of political economy, pt. 4. N. Y. Macmillan & Co., 1893. 8°, cl., net, $1.

Riddle, A. G. Ansel's cave: a story of early life in the Western Reserve. Cleveland, O., The Burrows Bros. Co., 1893. c. 7+249 p. D. cl., $1.25.

A real cavern some twenty miles east of Cleveland gives title to the story. The story opens in 1835, when, though the lands of the Western Reserve were largely occupied by the pioneers, they were still largely covered by the grand forest, and communication between Newbury and Cleveland was difficult and through a nearly unbroken wilderness to the Chagrin River. Mr. Riddle is already known favorably by his first novel, "Bart Ridgely." This story is founded on facts—romantic and sensational—the characters bearing their proper names, as the author knew them many years ago.

*Rochester city directory for 1893. Rochester, N. Y., E. Darrow & Co., 1893. 1148 p. 8°, cl., net, $4.

Scudder, J. M., M.D. Specific diagnosis: a study of disease; with special reference to the administration of remedies. 9th ed. Cin., O., J. M. Scudder & Sons, 1893. c. 74. 5-387 p. D. cl., net, $2.50.

Sherwood, W. H., D.D., comp. Harp of Zion. Petersburg, Va., published at Sherwood Orphan School, by W. H. Sherwood, [1893.] c. 144 p. por. il. O. bds., 35 c.

Songs and hymns with music, many being entirely new. Published for and by men of the Afro-American race, and adapted specially to their church services, though suitable for any church or Sunday-school.

*Shoemaker, J. V., M.D. Practical treatise on materia medica; with especial reference to the clinical application of drugs. 2d ed., rev. Phil., F. A. Davis Co., 1893. 2 v., 1100 p. 8°, v. 1, cl., net, $2.50; shp., net, $3.25; v. 2, cl., net, $3.50; shp., net, $4.50.

*Strümpell, Adolph. A text-book of medicine. New ed. N. Y., Appleton, 1893. 1043 p. il. 8°, cl., subs., $6.

Sturgis, Julian. Count Julian: a Spanish tragedy. Bost., Little, Brown & Co., 1893. c. 3-122 p. S. cl., $1.

A drama founded on the overthrow in 1711 of the Visigothic kingdom of Spain by the Saracens under Tárik. Count Julian was a Moor, whose daughter was betrayed into the hands of Roderick, last king of the Visigoths, to satisfy the vengeance of Martinez, Julian's apparent friend, but in reality his arch enemy.

World's Columbian Exposition. Exposition de la librairie Française; comité 34. Librairie, impressions typographiques et lithographiques, reliures, estampes, géographie, cartographie, journaux. Émile Terquem, représentant. Chic., Ém. Terquem, 76 24th St., 1893. no paging, O. pap., gratis.

Zola, Émile. Doctor Pascal; tr. by Mary J. Serrano. N. Y., Cassell Pub. Co., [1893.] c. 2+471 p. D. (Cassell's sunshine ser., no. 145.) pap., 50 c.

The last volume of the Rougon-Macquart series. Old "Aunt Dide," the founder of the race, is still alive in the story at the age of 104, and her son dies at 80 from spontaneous combustion. Dr. Pascal is the son of Félicité Rougon and nearly sixty; he is living at Plassans with his niece Clotilde, a girl of twenty-five, and an old housekeeper; he is devoting the remaining years of his life to the study of his favorite subject, heredity, and has arrived at the belief that only perfect happiness is found in perfect health; and after some experimenting imagines he possesses the secret of curing all ills. Clotilde, who is Pascal's assistant and secretary, falls madly in love with him, and tells him of her infatuation. Their immoral relations are not condemned by Zola, the boy born of the connection, being, it is suggested, the future regenerator of the Rougon race. Dr. Pascal's death carries out the theory of heredity developed in this series.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

JULY 15, 1893.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

"Every man is a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE uncertainty as to the tariff and financial legislation of the new administration, the present tightness of the money market and other causes, have had a most depressing effect upon the business world, and created a cautiousness and listlessness among buyers that may continue for some time. Some of this had been foreseen and measures had been taken accordingly, so that but few failures have occurred in the business world excepting among "wreckers" and "kite-flyers." A fair amount of trade has been done, and though the demand seems to have been restricted to actual needs the publishing world has moved along steadily, if slowly. The export trade of books has been unusually good compared with last year, the South American markets having been liberal buyers.

Owing to the indifferent state of business, and possibly to the fact that the World's Columbian Exposition more or less distracts the attention of visitors to Chicago, the meeting of the trade in that city during the first weeks of July was not so largely attended as during the past two years. Nearly every large publishing house was represented at the Palmer House, but the reports show business done thus far rather below than above the mark. However, the feeling is decidedly hopeful, and with the beginning of September the tide is expected to turn in the direction of a steady and increasing demand.

THE work of compiling the current volume of the "Publishers' Trade List Annual" is in full progress, and the volume may be expected the last week in August. The list promises to be quite full so far as the larger and more important publishing houses are concerned; but there are a few smaller houses who, unwisely we think, are inclined to omit their lists for reasons of economy. Never could economy be more out of place than in this direction. The "Publishers' Trade List Annual" has long since become one of the most important assistants with which the bookseller is acquainted. It is found in every important book-store, library and book-selling establishment, not only in this country but in England and on the continent. Many booksellers, indeed, depend almost entirely upon this list for information. With this in mind we need hardly dwell upon the importance of being represented within its covers. Absence cannot fail to bring loss of business. The argument will not hold good that because a house was represented with a list a few years ago or only a year back, and has published but little since, a new insertion is unnecessary, for few booksellers can afford to give houseroom to the back volumes of the list. Besides, they have become accustomed to look for the publishers' lists in this shape, and only in rare instances will take the time and trouble to find out who has dropped out and write for the missing lists. No matter, therefore, how insignificant or old the list may be the publisher may depend upon it that he will receive value in return for its insertion in the "Trade List Annual." The cost of inserting it is trifling compared with the profit by sales that may be effected through it. This argument we know is not needed for the old supporters of the volume, and we know it will become unnecessary for those also who will take the trouble to test the matter thoroughly for themselves.

THE PUBLISHERS' EXHIBITS AT THE WORLD'S COLUMBIAN EXPOSITION.

GERMANY.—II.*

THE exhibits of publications described in THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY of July 8 are in themselves representative of the book-making arts of Germany, but many of the firms who furnish the materials employed in the manufacture of the books have made separate exhibits of their arts, and this part of the German book-trade exhibit is of special interest to all book manufacturers, printers, engravers, lithographers and bookbinders.

Almost the finest printing of Germany is done at the Reichsdruckerei (Government Printing Office) of Berlin, which differs from our Government Printing Office in not confining itself to government publications, and does much independent work, subject to certain restrictions. This Reichsdruckerei displays fine specimens of book, job and plate printing, lithography, every kind of process work, zinc etching, engraving, electroplating, stereotyping, typefounding, binding, etc. It employs upwards of 1300 people, and keeps busy one rotary press, fifty-nine steam book-presses, eighty-one hand-presses, and two hundred and thirteen other presses and machines. During 1891-92 these printed 14,113,000 sheets of postage-stamps (100 each), 236,000,000 postal-cards, 31,800,000 money orders, 4,425,000 sheets of insurance stamps (100 each), 788,000 sheets of wrappers, etc. (about 31,706,000 pieces), savings banks' stamps, 1,810,000, bank notes and other papers of value, 7,400,000; representing a value of 2,627,650,000 marks ($656,912,500). In miscellaneous printing about 128,000,000 sheets are turned out during the year. The treasurer's report for this period showed receipts amounting to 5,768,320 marks ($1,442,080), and expenses amounting to 4,063,764 marks ($1,015,941). W. Drugulin, of Leipzig, has sent a large collection of specimens of his specialty—oriental, old and odd printing, also specimens from his type foundry. Der Deutsche Buchdrucker Verein (German Printers' Association), who work together for the advancement of the higher educational interests as well as the material interests of their trade, by forming branch societies, erecting trade schools, and by an ingenious and systematized plan of exchange of original specimens of fine job work, have sent a fine collection from this "specimen exchange." Many of these are rather conventional though some show originality of design, but all are marvels of skill and accuracy in execution. C. Grumbach, of Leipzig, Förster & Borries, of Zwickau, and many others of lesser note are also represented. Fine art printing, including chromolithography, photolithography, photogravure and other process work, is richly represented by Opacher's Art Lithographic Publishing Co., in Munich (who have a branch in New York City); Meissner & Buch, of Leipzig; Emil Pinkau, of Leipzig (whose specialties are lithographic and half-tone views and albums); and Meissenbach-Riffarth, of Berlin and Munich.

A small collective exhibit, showing specimens of every variety of printing, is furnished by the color and ink manufacturers, Kast & Ehinger, of Stuttgart, who in their exhibit of fine inks show some exquisite specimens of printing.

Bookbinding in Germany has reached almost perfection in technical detail, and fine specimens of this art are displayed, notably in fine leather bindings, of which the chief exhibitors are the Reichsdruckerei, of Berlin, which shows a white parchment bound édition de luxe of "Nathan der Weise," privately printed by W. Drugulin of Leipzig; Moritz Gohre, of Leipzig; and Hermann Graf & Sohn, who display a jewel-casket which is a masterpiece of binding in fine white calf, elaborately inlaid and hand-tooled.

But, although the Germans can do the finest work called for, the German public taste does not as yet seem to demand the finish of execution in book-production which is shown in France, England and America. To the average German the intrinsic worth of the book appeals far more than the outward form, and often when small fortunes have been spent to get a perfect text and suitable print, there is a mistaken show of the German economical bias—and paper, margin and binding do not make a fitting setting for such contents. In cloth bindings, especially, the German taste is heavy. They are over-ornamented and too heavily gilded. The flat holiday books still hold their own, and many publishers sink a great deal of money in manufacturing these "pracht-exemplare." There is still a great field for the education of public taste, and the publishers are beginning to realize it, and will no doubt, in time, let fine editions of classics and standards perfect in every detail take the place of these clumsy illustrated flat holiday books, which as yet are about the only specimens of German bookbinding. The bindings displayed show complete knowledge of the art, but as yet there has been but little demand for the neat, strong, simple cloth bindings which some of our publishers in America furnish with almost all their publications. An exhibition of bindings, from plain boards to full cloth, is made by the well-known Leipzig firm of R. F. Kohler. The accompanying list of this exhibit, giving the cost price of every binding, is quite instructive.

THE YEAR-BOOK OF THE FRENCH PRESS.

"L'ANNUAIRE de la Presse Française et du Monde Politique" (Year-book of the French Press and of the Political World), in its fourteenth issue forms an imposing volume, published in Paris by the Ancienne Maison Quantin. The compiler and general manager is Henri Avenal, who begins his work with an able preface reviewing the year since last issue and pointing out some of the great difficulties of bringing together the facts contained in the volume. He next contributes an article on the progress of the press, showing the new journals that have sprung up during the year and giving a most interesting summary of their several aims and purposes. He figures that France averages a political organ to every 20,000 or 25,000 inhabitants. The volume then opens with classified information of every kind, beginning with the names of the president and ministers of France, the sovereigns and presidents of the world, cardinals composing the sacred college, the ambassadors from foreign courts to France, and French ambassadors at foreign courts, alphabetical list of senators and deputies, members of the Chamber of Commerce, bankers, list of colleges, lyceums, schools, etc., etc. Then comes the important purpose of the book. The French press is analyzed and classified by localities, subjects, and alphabet; the correspondents of the periodical journals and newspapers are given alphabetically, the real names and pseudonyms of all writers for the press; the entry of every paper mentioned of which the title is not self-explanatory is furnished with a nonpareil footnote explaining its aims and its standing in the scientific, literary, mechanical or religious world, and the amount of detail collected about the press can hardly be imagined. The compiler believes the only foundation for accurate history is the daily press, and thinks the records of papers that compose it cannot be too untiringly collected. Biographical papers are given of the members of the legislature from 1889-1893, many of whom are journalists, a necrology of members of the press. Lists of railroads, theatres and trade-lists of every kind, chiefly of publishers, booksellers, printers, type-founders, ink dealers and manufacturers of everything connected with getting up a journal are inserted, printed on paper of different tints. Upwards of fifty portraits are scattered through the thick volume, chiefly of French ministers, authors and publishers. Alfred Mame and Georges Hachette are among the latter, both having died since the last issue. This year-book is a most important publication, well planned and well executed—another evidence of the fine work that can be accomplished by an inspiring motive and faithful co-operation in execution. M. Em. Terquem will supply the trade in this country.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS IN RELATION TO BOOKS, ETC.

THE summary statement of the imports and exports of the United States for the month ending April 30, 1893, and for the ten months ending the same, compared with the corresponding periods of 1892 (corrected to June 1, 1893), makes the following showing as regards books, etc.:

BOOKSELLERS' ASSOCIATIONS.

NATIONAL NEWSDEALERS' AND BOOKSELLERS' ASSOCIATION.

German-American Title and Trust Co.'s Building, Room 50,
N. E. COR. BROAD AND ARCH STREETS,

PHILADELPHIA, PA., July 10, 1893.

THE National Newsdealers' and Booksellers' Association of the United States will hold their next annual convention in the city of Chicago, Ill., at Athenæum Hall, September 19, 20 and 21, 1893.

The committee in charge make an earnest appeal to all organized bodies to send delegates to the above-mentioned convention.

We are anxious that every State in the Union shall be organized as a State Association, and with this object in view invite delegates from every State, city or borough throughout the country to attend this convention.

In any town or city where a union exists, the union shall be the medium in transaction with the National Association. It shall pay 15 cents per capita fees for each member, and shall have the right to elect one delegate for every 20 members, to represent them at all future national conventions.

In places where no union exists, any newsdealer, bookseller or stationer who is engaged in business for himself, can become a member of the National Association by sending $1 to E. C. Rahme, Chairman National Executive Committee; he will in return receive one year's subscription to The Newsdealer and Stationer or The Newsman, as he may desire. This will keep him posted on all matters relating to the trade.

Special rates have been made with the various railroad companies for transportation, and arrangements have been made with the Saratoga Hotel for accommodating all who may attend. Any further information may be obtained by applying to E. C. Rahme, Chairman National Executive Committee German-American Title and Trust Co., N. E. Cor. Broad and Arch Streets, Philadelphia, Pa.

PROCLAMATION.

The executive committee having appointed a time and place for holding the next annual convention in the city of Chicago, in September next, it becomes my duty to impress upon the officers and members of the different organizations the importance of using their utmost endeavors to make the coming convention a memorable one; this being a memorable year.

It should be the aim of the associations to keep alive an interest among their members in all things that pertain to the advancement of the book and news interests.

It is but laudable and proper that the members of every legitimate business should endeavor to promote the interests of their calling, and in no way can this be better accomplished than by thorough organization. I would therefore appeal to each and every member to put forth his best efforts toward the advancement of his local organization, and by so doing strengthen the National Association, and at the same time protect his individual interests.

Yours fraternally,

CHAS. B. SWIFT, President.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

Modern Art, a new quarterly devoted to art topics, is published by J. M. Bowles, 23 N. Meridian St., Indianapolis, Ind. It is printed on hand-made paper with broad margins and uncut edges, and is plentifully supplied with striking head and tail pieces, decorative borders and initials, in black and colors. The "autumn number" will have for frontispiece a portrait by Leon Bonnat.

The Magazine of American History has again changed hands, and will hereafter be issued by the Magazine of American History Co., of 120 Broadway, N. Y. The new management promises to bring to the conduct of the magazine new facilities and far-reaching plans which will maintain the publication at the high standard established by its early editors and so ably continued under the direction of Martha J. Lamb. The editor-in-chief now is Nathan G. Pond, of Connecticut.

THERE are new departures in book publishing every now and then as well as in other lines of trade, as the business changes to suit the needs of the book buying world. One of the indications of this changing element is the closer drawing of the line between book publishers and magazine publishers. The illustrated magazine of to-day is in itself a publishing venture requiring as large and complete an equipment as the plant necessary for the publishing of books. It has been brought about by the incessant and enormous advance of late years of the daily and weekly press. It therefore resolves itself into a question of divided forces on the publisher's part to bring out a first-class illustrated magazine for the family, fully abreast with the times; at the same time that his aim is the extension of his legitimate business, the publishing of books. Realizing this the D. Lothrop Company have made most satisfactory arrangements growing out of their pleasant relations with each other, with The Century Company to take the Wide Awake and consolidate it with St. Nicholas. The D. Lothrop Company have new plans on foot for the extension of their publishing business, that will be set in motion on their occupancy of their new building, which will be ready for them at the beginning of the new year.

BUSINESS NOTES.

BIRMINGHAM, CONN.—Barnes Bros. have opened a new book-store here.

CHICAGO, ILL.—We regret to hear that on the 12th the old firm of C. M. Barnes, of 75 Wabash Avenue, confessed judgment in the Superior Court for $57,000. According to the statement made by the attorneys for the creditors, the failure was caused by inability on the part of Mr. Barnes to renew his paper, as was expected. He will probably be enabled to continue.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, IND.—Robinson & Wallace, booksellers, established since 1865, made an assignment on the 12th inst. All of the home creditors are preferred, but it is thought that the assets will nearly equal the liabilities. None of the creditors was pressing them.

EAU CLAIRE, WIS.—The book-store opened up at this place by Mr. T. G. Hobert, under the name of "Raymer's Old Book Store," has been discontinued, as it was found that the place could not support an establishment of the kind.

ST. PAUL, MINN.—The Swedish-American Book Co. has recently been incorporated here. The capital stock of the company is $25,000, and the incorporators are: Karl Wallen, J. M. Carlson, S. W. Lundberg, P. H. Alfom, A. S. Larson, O. P. Peterson, of St. Paul; G. Wahlund, of Spring Lake; A. Aron, of Minneapolis; and J. L. Walters, of Lake City.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

F. T. NEELY, Chicago, has just ready a new novel by Richard Henry Savage, author of "My Official Wife," entitled "The Passing Show."

SAMPSON LOW, MARSTON & CO. have in hand a work of special importance to medical men. This is an illustrated "Encyclopædic Medical Dictionary," in four volumes. The first three parts are ready for immediate publication, and the fourth part will be issued shortly. The work is a complete dictionary of the technical terms used by writers on medicine and collateral sciences in the Latin, English, French and German languages.

MR. HENRY SOTHERAN has retired from his position as sole partner in the well-known and old-established firm of Henry Sotheran & Co. in favor of his son, Mr. Henry Cecil Sotheran, who has been associated in his father's business for the last thirteen years, and who, in partnership with Charles Buckland and Alexander Balderston Railton (the managers respectively during a long period of the Piccadilly and Strand houses), will continue the business under the same style as heretofore. Mr. Sotheran has been connected with the trade for over sixty years, and is, therefore, one of the oldest of living English booksellers.

A MAGNIFICENT altar-book, comprising the communion service of the Episcopal Church, with the collects, epistles and gospels for Sundays and holy days throughout the year, according to the last revision, is announced as in preparation in Boston. The work is undertaken under the direction of Mr. D. B. Updike. Every collect, epistle and gospel, and many of the prayers begin with initials specially designed for them; those for the gospels being every one different. Certain pages are surrounded with elaborate borders, and opposite them full-page plates by a famous English artist will add richness to the book. The work will be printed on English hand-made paper of small quarto size, made for the volume by Dickinson, and the colophons will be engraved on copper by C. W. Sherborn, of London.

H. E. HAFERKORN, 662 Tenth Street, Milwaukee, Wis., has issued Pts. V. and VI. of his useful "Handy Lists of Technical Literature." The new issue is an alphabetical reference catalogue of books on fine arts and architecture, painting, sculpture, decoration, etc., arranged under authors and subjects and including analytical references to the contents of important works. The list restricts itself to such works as were issued from 1880 to May, 1893, though it includes a number of books published before 1880 that are frequently met with in catalogues. Mr. Haferkorn also adds a list of periodicals and annuals in these branches, and a short list of imported works in the German language. The list is an exceedingly useful one and is carefully and conscientiously compiled. Mr. Haferkorn's labors, unfortunately, have been so poorly supported that although he has collected the material for a similar list of reference-books he does not feel encouraged to print it. We trust that the trade and libraries will support the present work sufficiently to induce the author to change this decision.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted," subscribers only are entitled to a free insertion of five lines for books out of print, exclusive of address (in any issue except special numbers), to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents per line, and amount should be enclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents per line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents per line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

Under the heading "Books for Exchange," the charge is 10 cents per line. No deduction for standing matter.

Under the heading "Situations Wanted," subscribers are entitled to one free insertion of five lines. For repeated matter and advertisements of non-subscribers the charge is 10 cents per line.

All other small advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents per line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

Parties desiring to receive answers to their advertisements through this office must either call for them or enclose postage stamps with their orders for the insertion of such advertisements. In all cases we must have the full address of advertisers as a guarantee of good faith.

Houses that are willing to deal only on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as "not having been received."

TAIT'S NATIONAL LIBRARY OF BEST 200 BOOKS.

WE beg to inform the Trade that we will shortly issue a new series of handsomely illustrated crown octavos comprising 200 titles, which an exhaustive inquiry made of the leading Librarians throughout the country has shown to be the books most in demand in their Libraries, and, therefore, from the Trade's point of view, the most popular, the most active and best-selling titles.

A careful analysis of the catalogues of the leading domestic and foreign publishing houses clearly demonstrates the fact that there is no line in existence which will at all compare with the one which we have secured as a result of prolonged and painstaking inquiry ; and this was inevitable seeing that all other selections are, for the most part, based on individual judgment, whereas our series is practically the result of a consensus of opinion of the whole of the United States as to which are the most popular books.

Arrangements have been made with the well-known publishers, Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Roberts Bros., Harper & Bros., Porter & Coates, D. Appleton & Co., J. B. Lippincott Co., Dodd, Mead & Co., Macmillan & Co., and others, whereby we are allowed to include their most prominent American copyright books in this list.

In every case the best single-volume edition has been chosen, insuring good print and paper. Each volume will contain a handsome colored photogravure title-page and from four to six new copyright illustrations of original design by American artists. This is a noteworthy feature, as many of the books, including a majority of the American copyrights, have never before been illustrated.

This edition will be of uniform size, printed on fine calendered paper with broad margin, and in clear type. It will be bound in beautiful half calf with gilt top. Each volume will be boxed, and the whole series will form a line of very attractive books for Holiday presents, and as the illustrations are copyrighted, the line can only be procured from ourselves.

The price will be $1.50, excepting for copyright books, which will be $2.00 and $2.50 per volume.
